ASHLEY KROFT

Ashley Kroft is a certified Adjudicator of Dance. Ashley Kroft is an interdisciplinary choreographer, educator, and movement artist originally from Orlando, Florida where she began her dance career at the age of four. Ashley has trained extensively with the infamous Melissa Stokes at the Shooting Stars School of Performing Arts which is ranked Top 10 Studio in the Nation. She has studied many genres of dance and obtained her BFA at the University of Central Florida, who is lucky to have studied from Judi F. Siegfried, Earl D. Weaver, and Dr. Katherine White. Wanting to further her education, Ashley acquired her MFA in Dance Choreography at Jacksonville University in 2022. This achievement has gifted her a position as Dance Professor at the University of Texas at El Paso.

As a dancer, Ashley has won numerous scholarships and awards which led to her experience as a featured dancer in three professional Orlando based dance companies; Red Right Return Dance Company, DRIP, and Dasa Presents. She also performed with a traveling theatre company for the steam punk show "Phantasmagoria" for three seasons. As well, she has been featured in commercials such as "Bright house", "Tostitos", and "Universal Studios" to name a few. Along with being in these commercials, Ashley won "Dancer of the Year" at The Expo convention in Dallas, Texas.

In addition to her dance career, Ashley is an experienced educator and choreographer. Her works have been recognized and have won her many awards at numerous competitions, conventions, and festivals across the Nation. Ashley has been known for her "Outstanding Stage Presence" as a performance artist and she wants to use this to disseminate to dancers her passion for dance and performance to the evolving generation of dance artists. And now as an ID Dance Judge, Ashley will be able to share her knowledge and experience by helping dancers grow into their confidence!
